THE PARTY LAW.

THE PARTY LAW.

The Constitution provides that in requiar elections the voting shall be by ballot, but the primary law requires that the voting in primary elections shall be viva voce. If we are going to have a party law it should be obeyed. The State's convention declared in favor of primaries and directed the State Committee to promulgate a plan.—Richmond Times-Dispatch, whose opinion we highly respect, but differ with it in this case. The State convention, if we rightly remember, decided in favor of legalized primary election, and directed the State Committee to have a bill prepared for enactment, which, had it done so, would have had our primaries all to vote by ballot, which both the old and new Constitution would have required.

This recommendation of the State Committee with the instruction of the last State convention before them favoring the ballot system by virtue of recommending a law lagalizing the primary, when the Constitution would have required them to have voted by ballot, was in opposition to the intention of the Copstitution and custom of the party for years to vote by ballot. This action of the State Committee had no binding effect on the counties in their local elections—with those the counties are free to do as they deem proper.—Leesburg Washingtonian Mirror.

The platform adopted by the Democratic convention which met in the city

The platform adopted by the Demo-cratic convention which met in the city of Norfolk in August, 1901, and which is the last declaration of the party on this subject, contained the following provision:

"We declare ourselves as favoring the principle of the selection of party candidates by primary election, believing this to be the surest method of arriving at the will of the people and maintaining Democratic institutions.

"We accordingly DIRECT the State Central Committee to provide a primary election law for the choice of party can didates for the United States Senate and for all elective State officers, and for members of the House of Representatives for members of the General Assembly and for county and municipal officers where for special reasons the local party authority shall deem it expedient. And the party plan of organization in so far as the same may conflict with any of the above requirements is hereby altered to

This clause was then added: "We furth. er declare the anactment by the General Assembly of a law legalizing the prima-ries to be conducted under the plan herein provided for, the said plan when adopted by the committee to be uniform as to method and to require the elections to be held on the same day throughout the State districts or countles."

It will be noted that the convention instructed the State Central Committee to provide a primary election plan whether or not the plan should be legalized by the General Assembly. It did not instruct the committee to prepare a bill for enactment, as our Leesburg contemporary remembers, but simply mended that the General Assembly enact a law legalizing primaries.

The declaration of the convention of the subject of primaries was most exblick, and the fact that the General Assembly has failed thus far to enact a law legalizing primaries has nothing whatever to do with the case, and does not in any way impair the instruction of the convention to the State Central Com-

In accordance with that instruction the committee at its meeting in the city of Richmond on January 14, 1902, prepared and promulgated a plan which provides in terms for a primary for the election of candidates for United States Senator, in Congress, for Representatives in Confor State elective officers, for State Senators, and finally for the election of candidates for the House of Delegates. And it declares that "all voting shall be under what is known as the viva voce system, the candidates to be voted for directly, and those receiving the highest number of votes at any of the primary elections shall be declared to be the party nominees." Such is the party law, and there is no escape from it. If we are going to the difference in the color of hers and have a party law it should be observed in the spirit and in the letter.

CUT AND COVER TUNNEL.

Many of the merchants doing business on the principal part of Broadway, New York, are profoundly stirred by fear that the rapid transit commissioner will lay open that great thoroughfare for tunnel construction, as they have done in some other parts of the city.

For the street to be ditched for this purpose means the interruption of their business for one or two years to comean interruption which would inflict upon | Senator Aldrich is having a good time | a criminal

Street, at least, there shall be a deep tunnel, not a mere cutting, to be covered over afterwards.

The work for the rapid transit railway system hitherto constructed has not been ofter the tunneling plan, but consists of open cuts in the street. The objection to a deep tunnel is that it will cost much more and will necessitate more labor to passengers to get to and from the trains than would a tunnel constructed but a few feet below the surface of the ground.

This question has gotten to be of public importance in New York, and the mer chants have held several indignation meet ings to record their protests against th construction of the road by the "cut and cover" system.

face of the street will not be interfered with at all, and business may proceed regularly and as usual. On the other hand if the cut and cover method be continued, the readway will be dug open and kept in an impassable condition for months and months to come

It is possible that as a result of the present discussion the route of the con templated construction will be changed from Broadway to Seventh Avenue.

THE SOUTH'S PROCRESS

In spite of the demoralization in Wall Street, development in the South goes on According to the Manufacturers' Record, the Southern Railway is actively doubletracking, its main line between Washington and Atlanta, the Scaboard Air Line is pushing on to Birmingham, the Louisville and Nashville is driving away at its extension to Knoxville, which is to make a direct route from Cincinnati to Atlanta; the Southern has just begun an extension through Rabun Gap for the purpose of making a low grade coal road from the Tennessee Mountains to Tidewater, the Norfolk and Western and the Chesapeake and Ohio are going ahead vigorously with their extensive plans in West Virginia and Kentucky, respectively.

The managers of these railroads are wide-awake men and usually know what they are about. They would hardly be spending money in making these extensive improvements unless they had good reason to believe that there will be business for the new roads in the section through which they will run. It cannot be expected that these boom times will continu indefinitely, but there is no doubt that the South will continue its work of development for many years to come. It is the growing section.

THE PRIMARY PLAN.

What we had to say in yesterday's paper as to the duty of the party to ob erve in all particulars the primary election plan as laid down by the State Democratic Committee was written before we had heard that the committee had been called together to consider the Shenandoal

We wish the public to know this and no for a moment think that we were generalizing in order to argue a particular

We are convinced that local committees ought to be warned against departing from the plan as laid down by the State Committee, and we said so. The course we have recommended is the only safe one in our opinion. There is danger in any other. Our Slogan is. Stick to the plan as promulgated by the State Committee under instructions received by it from the State Democratic convention!

Returns from the Mississippi senatorial primary indicate the nomination of Mr Money for re-election, and the result will be that all the Democratic members of the Legislature will vote for him.

Governor Longino was Mr. Money's competitor in the primary contest, and he made a very stirring contest, but was unable to woo voters enough to his side

The primary held Thursday nominated Senator, Governor and other members of the State ticket, and also all local officers. There were hundreds of candidates, and the consequence was that the expense fell lightly upon each one. The gubernatorial nominee is James K. Vardman, United States Senator J. K. Mc-Laurin, whose term expires March 4, 1905,

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 7.-Lieutenant-General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army, will retire from active service at noon to-morrow, having reached the age limit of sixty-four years. Several other orders resulting from the retirement of General Miles have been issued, one assigning Lieutenant-General Young to the command of the army until August 15th, when he will assume the dusies of chief of staff; another assigning Major-General Corbin as president of the Soldiers' Home Board; another, Brigadier-General Gillespie as president of th Board of Ordnance and Fortifications, and AT THE PRESIDENT'S HOME still another assigning Lieutenant-Genera Young as a member of the Sherman Status Commission.

ADDRESS TO ARMY. General Miles has issued an address upon

General Miles has issued an address upon the occasion of his retirement from active service, in which he says:

"The time and occasion are considered opportune for expressing to the army a few thoughts concerning its past, and which may affect its future welfare. It is from the best impressions and influences of the past that the most desirable results may be realized in the future.

"Unswerving devotion to our government and the principles upon which it was established and has been maintained is essential to the efficiency of the national forces, and especially is this so in a democratic government, where the individual, in order to be a perfect soldier, must first be a true citizen. The boast that every soldier of a great nation carried a marshal's baton in his knapsack is in a higher sense more than equaled in significance by the fact that every American soldier personifes impartial justice to those who have never experienced it, and the results of the highest liberty to those who have been strangers to it, thereby aiding to secure for his country a moral influence not otherwise attain-those who have been strangers to it, thereby adding to secure for his country a moral influence not otherwise attain-able.

"The events of recent years have placed upon the army a new obligation and an opportunity for a broader exemplification of its country's principles. The United upon the army a new obligation and an epportunity for a broader exemplification of its country's principles. The United States army is now brought into daily communication with millions of people to whom its individual members of every grade are the exponents of American eivilization. A serious duty and a great honor are now presented to every officer and soldier, namely: To exemplify to those with whom he comes in contact our country's principles of equal and exact justice. Immunity from violence, equality before the law and the peaceful use and possession of his own.

"The Lieutenant-General has faith that under all circumstances the army will maintain its high character, and that its future will be as honorable and glorious as has been its history in the past. His earnest solicitude and best wishes will ever follow the fortunes of the army."

For a time he very skilfully hid his embezzlements by false entries.

It was thought at first by the directors and the examiner that the shortage would not exceed $20,000, but when replies to telegrams showed a shortage of $95,000 in the accounts, the bank was compelled to suspend. The shortage has steadly increased to $125,00.

Cashler Dewey, anticipating the disclosures left Newbern Saturday evening, ostensibly on personal business, to return Monday. He was last heard from on a Seaboard Alt Line train going North from which he mailed letters to his botter, Charles Dewey, of Goldsboro, and to Governor Aycock, telling of his shortage, expressing regret for his betrayal of the trust reposed in him, and saying he was leaving for parts unknown.

Sir,-In your issue of voterday a communication signed "Taxpayor," made reference to an alleged condition of Harrison Streets. I have time and again given notice that the proper place to report any grivances of the kind is to the office of the Street Cleaning Department. When complaints are received at the office they are promptly investigated and attended to, and had the one signing himself "Taxpayer" reported the condition of things to the proper place, there would be no need of him alring himself in the newspapers, under a nom de plume.

I hereby give notice to "Taxpayer" that no further notice with seaken of his newspaper communications started Cheaning A Card From Superintendent Cohn. TO THE SEASHORE TO-MORROW

Two Negroes Executed.

(By Asseclated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Aug. 7.—Will

Hudson and Will Jones, negroes, convicted on charges of highway robbery, were executed in the county fail yard to-day.

Hudson denied that he was guilty of the crime of which he had been conviced.

Asked, if he had killed anybody, he replied: "I will tell old Marster about that."

TENNIS TROPHY

British Players Appear to Have a Cinch on it.
(By Associated Press.)

(By Associated Frest.)

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—The British pair, R. F. and H. L. Doherty, scored another point for the international lawn tennis trophy to-day by defeating R. D. and G. L. Wrenn, Jr., the American pair, three sets to one, before four thousand persons at the Longwood Cricket C.ub grounds, the scores being 7-5, 0-5, 2-6, 6-8. The record now stands two to one in favor of the challengers and to-morrow two more matches in singles will be played, so that the Americans must win both to retain the cup. In points to-day, the British team had the advantage, 140 to 131, but the scores and points failed to show the all-round superiority of the visitors. They excelled the American pair in nearly every department of the gams, handling the lobs, which their opponents relief upon almost freely, with an ease and skill that was surprising. On the other hand the total work of the American pa'r and their general play was much better than exhibited before the game and their fine play in the first two sets, which was the feature of the match brought forth almost continuous appliause, Reception to Mrs. Thomas.

A reception was tendered at the Grove-Avenue Baptist Church last night to Mrs. Mattle B. Thomas, of Washington, the sweet singer, who is on a visit of several days to Richmond. Quite a number of persons were present and a most enjoyable hour was spent. Mrs. Thomas has a beautiful soprano voice and she charmed her audience with several choice selections. The big organ was used, Mr. Manly B. Ramos playing the accompaniment. Mrs. Thomas consented to sing at the morning service at Grove-Avenue to-morrow. The selection will be "The Good Shapherd," by Vandewater. Reception to Mrs. Thomas.

Dr. Murhall, the distinguished evauge-jist, will preach to men only to-morrow afternoon at the Academy of Music. The service will begin at 3 o'clock, and a large attendance is expected. Prof. Pugh will lead the singing. None will be admitted who are under 14 or over 30 years of
